

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth"

10/17/22 – 10/22/22

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Welcome back to another short week everyone! The weather's cooler, the air is crisper, and the Denver Broncos still stink. Even as someone who isn't a Broncos fan, I'm sad for those of you that are. Anyways, Parent teacher conferences are right around the corner (All you freshman and sophomores probably already know this, but there's a good chance that some of you upperclassmen readers had no idea) so it's time to start making your teachers like you if you think you might be in a bit of trouble. Also, welcome to the second quarter!

Tips for Tackling Second Quarter

We started out the year with "Helpful Hints for Not Hating High School" (as you may or may not remember). And with any luck, you don't hate high school at this point; however, a full quarter has passed and some of us have gotten a bit too comfortable in our routines (yours truly included). So, to continue this series, here are a few more hints for surviving second quarter...

1. Be nice to people: It's not that tough and it's totally free for everyone involved. What you put out into the world matters.
2. You know that kid that sits alone in that one class you have and never talks to anyone? Talk to them, you might make a friend.
3. Keep track of your work. I know it's tough not to fall behind, and it's easy to start justifying missing assignments. Don't do that.
4. Go for a hike or something. Just trust me, it can help.
5. Stop. Making. Out. In. The. Middle. Of. The. Hall. At this point it's going to happen, but do you really need to block traffic?
6. Make yourself a good meal when you're feeling anxious or stressed. Nothing complicated, just some good comfort food.

Fun Things Happening in Your Hallways

- Love Jazz music but don't have an outlet? Or do you just want a cool place to hang out and appreciate music after school? Join Jazz Combo in the Band Room from 3:25 to 4:30 on Tuesdays with Ms. Kincaid and company!
- New official part of being a Coronado Student: Crossing the street like you've got nothing to lose (we all do it so it's okay).
- Breaking News: Classrooms with broken air conditioners are hot (unless you're in the new wing in which case, welcome to The Himalayas!)
- We kind of have some stairs now! Except for when we don't apparently.
- Nominate a teacher for The Rotary Diamond Award, the link is on the Coronado Website.
- Potty Mouth Request Form. (I try to put as many as I can in, but sometimes I forget to check. I'm Sorry).
