

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth"

11/7/22 – 11/12/22

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Gather 'round Cougars and rejoice: The Potty Mouth has been successfully returned to its superior author, meaning the reign of terror of my counterpart has been put on pause, and you can enjoy your bathroom trips once more! I'm truly sorry for my leave of absence; I know how hard it is to read my co-authors writing. Nevertheless, there is a lot going on at Coronado this month, so I will do my best to guide you through these first weeks of November.

Harvest of Love

For three weeks in November, Cougars Care and Student Council collect food and money for two purposes: the Thanksgiving Food Distribution (11/19) that goes to our students and families, and to restock the shelves of the Cougars Care pantry so that there is food to give to Coronado students and staff.

Here is the double points schedule for this week (bring in foods from these categories to earn your class double points!):

Monday: Anything Day

Tuesday: Your Favorite Food

Wednesday: Healthy Snacks Day

Thursday: Thanksgiving Day

Friday: Box Day

For the final week of Harvest of Love (next week so hold on to your minion goggles for now), there will be a spirit week with Twin Day on Monday, followed by Class Colors Day, Granola Day, Minions Day, and Madd Red and Gold to close out the week. Show your school spirit and continue to bring in donations!

Class Colors: 9th-Black, 10th-White, 11th-Gold, 12th-Red

Fun Things Happening in Your Hallways

- If you want an excuse to stay inside, a group of new friends, and a guaranteed way to stay warm during the cold months, try out a Winter Sport- you won't regret it.
- Rock Climbing is off to a great start! Congratulations to the Girls Varsity Team for placing first at the Southern Colorado Region Rock Climbing Competition.
- Breaking News: Recent studies indicate that the more you complain about the cold weather, the warmer it becomes!
- The Theatre Department is opening this week with Patrick Barlow's A Christmas Carol! Buy your tickets online using the link on the Coronado Website.
- Check out some of your peers' latest works on The Cougar Daily! You might just learn something new!
