

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth"

12/12/22 – 12/17/22

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Happy holidays cougars! This time of the year is for reconnecting, giving, and forgiving. In the spirit of forgiveness, your Potty Mouth co-authors have decided to put our differences aside and give you a peace-filled, neutral, and not at all passive aggressive final issue for this semester. You may or may not have been privy to our ongoing rivalry this semester, but as a special present for you, we're going to get through this together (hopefully) without saying anything mean. Here goes...

Pro Tips from the Pros on Conflict Diffusion

Step 1: Find Common Ground-For example, here's a list of everything that me and my co-author agree on.

- Genuinely not one thing. We sat here for THIRTY MINUTES and couldn't come up with anything. But that doesn't mean this won't work for you, we're just special.

Step 2: Talk about how you feel the other person has wronged you. (Confrontation is key!)

- Author #2: "I don't like what you said about me in the Potty Mouth."
- Author #1: "Deal with it."

Step 3: Throw things!

- The heavier the better!

Step 4: Rehydrate

~~Step 5: Passive aggressively write about one another in your school's bathroom newsletter for five months.~~

Step 5: Watch a movie together

- That's two hours of no talking! Nine hours if you watch the Lord of the Rings Trilogy.

Step 6: Hug it out

- Author #1: "Ew, no. I'm not hugging her."
- Author #2: "Ew no. I'm not hugging him."

Step 7: Problem Solved!

Editor's Note: This is satire, we're terrible people to be taking life advice from.

Fun Things Happening in Your Hallways

- Finals week is this week. Just breathe. You got this. One more week until winter break. We believe in you. (Schedule Below)
- Congratulations to the Boys Cross Country Team for placing fourteenth at nationals in Huntsville, Alabama last week!
- Breaking News: Secret Santa is never a secret. It's not even worth disagreeing; everyone knows by the second day at the latest.
- If you take a look around, you might notice everyone's sudden interest in their computer screens- unrelated, of course, to the World Cup matches happening at 8 and 12 every day.
- Breaking News: The basement flooded, mildew grew, and somehow it smells better than before.
- Have a good break Cougars! You made it through first semester unscathed and we're proud of you. Happy holidays everyone, we look forward to seeing you in 2023!
