

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth"

10/24/22 – 10/29/22

Read and learn while you pee and poo

It's almost Halloween Cougars, and that means a Three-Day Week! Not because of the holiday, mind you, it's because of conferences, but it's nice to dream every once in a while. I know that technically, Halloween is next Monday so it realistically shouldn't have anything to do with this week's issue, but my Co-Editor is in charge of this column next week, so I wanted to at least mention it in my version. While we're on the subject, I'd like to preemptively warn you and apologize for the absolute travesty that the Potty Mouth will inevitably be next week. Oh well, maybe this will be a wake-up call to not let second-tier writers worm their way into the spotlight.

Fun Things Happening in Your Hallways

- Okay it's official: Coronado is a sports school! Congrats to Cross Country, Volleyball, and Soccer for winning league, and nice job to boys and girls Cross Country for punching their ticket to state!
- Movie night in the Auditorium on the 26th (Missed it on the Calendar, but we're watching "Nightmare Before Christmas).
- Breaking News: Martians discover life on Earth, subsequently abandon entire planet
- Regarding this fun little schedule to the left: If your slot is during lunch, please still go. Remind your fellow club members and SHOW UP ON TIME.
- Hot Take: Halloween is not as good as the week or so leading up to and after it.
- Just in case no one has told you lately, you have a nice smile (you should use it more often) :)
- Potty Mouth Request Form
