

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth"

10/10/22 – 10/15/22

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Hey there Coronado, here's to the beginning of another week up here on the mesa. As some of you may have noticed, last week's issue of The Potty Mouth was not quite up to our usual standards. I'd like to take this moment to apologize as my co-editor thought it would be really really funny to commandeer my column for a week. As you could probably gather from the low-quality writing and general lack of flair, they didn't do a great job and I solemnly swear that garbage like that won't find its way into your bathroom trip again. Now that I have my keyboard back, let's jump into another issue written by your favorite editor.

Good News :)

When you think of the news, some not so positive things tend to come to mind. There's no way of sugarcoating that there's a lot of bad things happening in the world today, but a lot of times, this can overshadow the immeasurable amount of good that is also being done. In this spirit, we want to share some good news headlines from around the world to remind you that things aren't so bad.

- Renewable energy sources met 100% of increase in global energy need this year.
- A cat snuck into a school and got his picture taken on picture day – a portrait package was then sent home to his owner.
- New developing Alzheimer's drug being developed – shown to slow mental decline by over 27%.
- John Cena holds the world record for most wishes granted to sick children (650).
- Patagonia donated its entire three billion net worth to fight climate change.
- Australia sets aside 30% of landmass in the name of conservation.
