3/6/23 - 3/11/23

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Hey there Cougars, it's officially March! Let's take a quick minute to wish the seemingly endless amount of people born in March a happy birthday! The end of the quarter is rapidly approaching (three-day week!) and with that comes late work deadlines. Be sure to get in any missing assignments before the date set by your teachers. Deadlines can vary by department, so be sure to double check for each class. On a happier note, we're officially 3/4 of the way through the school year! Seniors, you're probably wondering where all the time went; I know I am. Freshmen, enjoy your time now because this is the slowest high school is ever going to be.

Get a (Perfectly Normal and Socially Acceptable) Hobby

Do you ever find yourself in a situation where someone asks you what your hobby is, but (gasp!) you don't have one? Well not to worry, we put together a complete list of verry common hobbies that you can give as an answer without being asked to elaborate.

- Beetle Fighting: Nothing says "I'm a normal and well-adjusted human like running an insect fight club.
- Suing: Not sewing - you heard me right. It counts as a hobby AND a side hustle.
- Competitive Duck Herding: I did a whole bunch of research to determine whether or not this is fake. It is not.
- Collecting Airplane Safety Cards: Those fun little plastic infographics are just too fun not to take.
- Chess Boxing: It's exactly what it sounds like. You punch each other and occasionally stop to play chess. In case you were wondering, yes, it is an international sport.
- Collecting Snowflakes: It takes up so much less space than other collections might and there's an infinite amount of them to collect. There's really no downside here.

Fun Things Happening in Your Hallways

- It's a three-day week everyone. The quarter ends on Wednesday so be sure to get all late work in ASAP.
- Huge congratulations to The Robotics Team for placing fifth overall at regionals in Utah this past weekend! You all did amazing!
- Dad Joke of the Day: Did you hear about the monster who had five legs? His pants fit him like a glove.
- Breaking News: Scientists who weighed rainbows discover that they're pretty light.
- Take a moment while you're walking through the tech building to stop and look at the art display cases. There's some pretty amazing stuff in there.
- I'm shocked that I even have to say this, but you guys know what is supposed to go in toilets. Don't put things in toilets that aren't supposed to be in there. It's really weird to me that some of you struggle with this.
- If only there was a QR code around here somewhere that would let me read all the cool stuff on The Cougar Daily.
