

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth" 4/1-4/5

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Welcome back from break, Cougars! I hope Spring Break was refreshing and relaxing, because now we're going to have to hit the ground running and keep working hard. On that note, because I have a lot of work to do over the Quarter, I'll be starting a biweekly article spotlight! If you like the articles I feature here, please check out cougardaily.org!

How To Not Get Caught in Tag (Or, Senior Assassin)

While Senior Assassin sounds fun, I, as the writer, am only a Junior. So, Seniors! I'll be cheering you on! Good luck! Here's a few tips on tag that'll hopefully apply to Senior Assassin.

- If there's a way to "void" or negate a tag, exploit it! Keep your floaties and swim goggles handy!
- Make use of safe zones! If you can, lose the tagger in the safe zone and run through the unsafe zones as quickly as you can.
- Remember it's just a game and there's no hard feelings. Since there is a cash prize, losing might seem more miserable, but don't fight with your peers over it!
- If you need to pick a fight, because someone did something wrong, don't "fight" fight. Take it to an adult or the administrator of the game. Don't burn bridges over games.
- While keeping your relationships intact...obliterate your competition and get as far as you can.
- Have fun!

Coronado's Senior Assassination Game Has Begun (Erica Merz)

Senior Assassination, commonly referred to as Senior Assassin, is a common tag game at high schools between seniors in teams of two starting at the end of the second semester. The game lasts anywhere from a few weeks to a few months.

Every team is assigned a target, another team that they must "tag" by squirting them with a water gun. The only way to stay safe from attack is by wearing swim goggles or pool floaties on both arms, traditional water repellants.

Johnny Geschke, Class of 2024, explained the intensity of the game: "It's very stressful being able to know who's after you but fun because everyone is being active and out and about." Students will go to great lengths to get their target eliminated from the game and there is a large cash prize for the game winner, suspected to be over $1,000.

Alliances form between teams, and the game is a way to create lasting memories with the graduating senior class. All seniors need to be constantly on high alert; you never know when someone will show up to get their "kill" and put them higher on the leaderboard.

For game updates and to see who's been tagged be sure to follow @cougarnation.assassination on Instagram.

Upcoming Events

Monday 4/1	Tuesday 4/2	Wednesday 4/3	Thursday 4/4	Friday 4/5	Saturday 4/6
Lunch LinkUP @ Room 212 (both lunches) Staff Meeting (3:15pm) Boys JV & Varsity v Pueblo South @ Pueblo South (4pm)	Girls JV & Varsity Soccer v Pueblo County @ Pueblo County High (5pm)	Girls Golf v Mesa Ridge @ Cherokee Ridge (3pm) Boys JV & Varsity v Pueblo South @ Home (4pm) Girls C-team Soccer v Vista Ridge @ Home (7pm)	Girls Varsity Golf Trojan Invite v Fountain-Fort Carson @ Cheyenne Shadows Golf Course (8am) Varsity Baseball v Lewis-Palmer @ Home (4pm) Girls Varsity Soccer v Sierra @ Sierra (4pm) Girls JV & Varsity Tennis v Canon City @ Canon City (4pm)	Boys Swim & Dive Cheyenne Mountain Invitational @ Cheyenne Mountain (TBD) Boys JV & Varsity Volleyball v Discovery Canyon @ Discovery Canyon (5pm)	Boys Swim & Dive Cheyenne Mountain Invitational @ Cheyenne Mountain (TBD) Track & Field Varsity Invitational @ All City Stadium (9am) Varsity Baseball v Palmer Ridge @ Palmer Ridge (10am) Girls Varsity Soccer v Sand Creek @ Home (10am)

Want to read more? Find more on our website, cougardaily.org or on Instagram @ thecougardaily/!