

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Hello Cougars! A few weeks ago, I mentioned club representatives, and this week's edition will be about club representatives, club advertisements, and club articles!

Club Advertisements and More!

Are you part of a club, and do you want to see your club advertised here in the Potty Mouth or have people in the Journalism Club write articles about events your club has and will hold? Here's how:

- Gather up information on who, what, when, why, and how. When it's happening, why it's happening, what's happening, who will be there (vague, you don't need to specify every person aside from the teacher), and how it's going to work. You should also include if the event has an admissions fee, and anything else you find important. If we need more, we'll follow up with you!
- Take a picture of your club or send us the flyer for your event!
- Send us the information at tyler.philipsen@d11.org!
- For each club, choose one or two people that are consistently at and participate in club events so you can have as accurate information as possible.

Example: Unravel the Mystery

Ever wanted to learn to knit or crochet, and you love a good mystery novel? Come check out Unravel the Mystery in room 214 on Wednesdays after school! Ran by Mrs. Stuckey, who also teaches several English classes, and Taylor Morrison, who has offered to teach anyone willing to learn to knit and crochet.

While the members knit or crochet, they listen to mystery novels on Audible. Last year they finished three novels, including Agatha Christie's And Then They Were None. This year, their first novel is Murder in a Scottish Shire by Traci Hall.

Alongside provided knitting needles, crochet hooks, and yarn, there are often snacks, both sweet and salty, and members can bring snacks for everyone, if they wish to.

Members of Unravel the mystery work on their projects as they listen to a mystery.
