We hope that this elevates your experience from wherever you are doing your business. And remember, Monday (9/1) is Labor Day! Since it's a federal holiday, it means no school for us. Happy 3-day Weekend!

Dual Enrolment at Pikes Peak State College

Starting the school year means starting classes at Pikes Peak again! Dual enrollment is an option many schools in D11 are offering through Pikes Peak State College. There are a variety of classes that can give you high school and college credits, and they are fully paid for by the district. This is a great way to set yourself up for success in the future.

Last year, Coronado students earned over two thousand college credits, through dual enrollment and taking the offered AP courses. AP classes are taken on Coronado campus, but you can still earn college credit. For next school year, look into taking classes through Pikes Peak! Who knows, they may offer something perfect for you!

To see offered Articulation classes, visit the Pikes Peak State website then go Academics - High School programs - Articulation - Coronado High School.

Coronado Parking Lot Troubles

Have you driven in the parking lot this year? There is absolute mayhem. With the new rule introduced by Coronado. The new rule states that students will have to go out through the exit at the light only. Many people wonder, was it really worth it? Drivers have spent 15 to 45 minutes just to get home and to after school activities.

Senior Mia Andersen expressed her own frustration, saying, "I think the parking lot is very frustrating especially for people who live south of Coronado, and usually leave through the south exit."

Junior Cora Jacobsen said in an interview, "I find it very challenging to make it to any plans I have after school considering the mess of the parking lot."

Many drivers have similar opinions about the matter. What do you think about this new change?

Stay safe in the parking lot, Cougars!
