

Cougar Daily's "The Potty Mouth" 10/2-10/8

The Bathroom Sensation That's Sweeping the Nation

Homecoming is arriving fast. Are you ready for the party at Coronado? Fun events will be going on every day, from October 6 to 11. Don't forget about spirit week, with Monday being decades, Tuesday dress your type, Wednesday Black Out vs White Out, and Thursday safari or animal print. Remember no school on Friday, October 10. Happy October!

Bedazzling the Bald

Do you want to bedazzle the head of your bald teacher? Well now you have the chance! Cougars Care is holding a "Bedazzle the Bald" fundraiser. Buy a ticket for a dollar and have the chance to bedazzle the head of Mr. Cox, Mr. Urban, Mr. Hartman, Mr. Edmund, Mr. Philipsen, or Mr. Nash. All proceeds from the raffle will go to buying food for Cougars Care's Harvest of Love.

Skylar Corbett, Class of 2027, said the idea for bedazzling the teachers heads came from a classmate who wanted to see Mr. Nash's head bedazzled to which he replied, "He would only allow it as a fundraiser for Cougars Care." Other teachers were then asked to join the fundraiser. English teacher, Mr Edmund, said he agreed "because Cougars Care is a great cause which helps our Coronado community."

Raffle tickets will be sold at lunch from Monday September 29 to Friday October 3. The winners will be announced Friday and the heads will be Bedazzled on Monday morning. When asked for any further comments Skylar Corbett noted that, "It is the first time we have tried any major student participation fundraiser like this, and we are so grateful for the staff participation and help we have received." Good luck Cougars.

Your Student Led News Website

The Cougar Daily is a website? If you didn't know, our student-run news site is up and running. All of our wonderful Journalism students are working hard to bring you information about our school and community. We post new articles every two weeks and if you've missed one of "The Potty Mouths," don't worry, we post them on the website too.

The Cougar Daily website launched in 2013. The AP Language and Journalism teacher, Mr. Philipsen, noted that "The stories are written by Cougars for Cougars. [The students] choose what to write about." Cougar Daily is made for everyone: current students, alumni, and the community. From last Friday's game to pop culture, we write the news for you.

The website can be found under student links on the Coronado homepage or you can search cougardaily.org!
